

Apprenticeship Training Agencies (ATAs)

You will need to choose an ATA to help deliver the apprenticeship. ATA's recruit, employ and arrange training for apprentices on behalf of employers.

Whether you are a levy payer or not or even if you have general questions about how you can make best use of apprenticeships for your business, an ATA will be able to give you expert advice.

There are many out there and you can find the approved list at:

However, the organisations listed below have all agreed to deliver the International Freight Forwarding Apprenticeship programme.
